4 NON-CAUCUS SOCREDS NOW CROSS HOUSE

Take Seats With Opposition
Benches As Legislature Opens

Four non-caucus Social Credit members of the legislature moved across the floor of the House Thursday afternoon and took their seats on the opposition benches.

These members are Charles Cockroft, former provincial secretary and member for Stettler; A. L. Blue, Rimbey; S. A. G. Barnes, Edmonton; and A. E. MacLellan, Inverness. They did not join any of the other opposition parties but constituted themselves into an Independent Progressive party.

Elected as Social Credit members, they have not attended caucus since 1937, and said they have continued to sit on the government side of the House, frequently being voted against by the government.

LETTER TO SPEAKER

In a letter to Hon. Peter Dawson, speaker of the legislature, four members concerned made their intentions clear today.

The letter, signed by all four, is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Dawson: The ninth session of the eighth legislative assembly of the province of Alberta is about to be convened. We, the undersigned, after careful consideration of all the events which have occurred during the past few years are obliged to recognize the inviolable position in which we have been placed in the legislative assembly during this period of time. We have been excluded from any discussions and have been prevented from offering our contribution on any matters prior to being placed before the assembly.

"Due to these facts, we regret that we find it necessary to ask that we be recognized in this, the last session of this parliament, as Independent Progressives."

Yours very truly, (signed): Charles Cockroft, M.L.A.; S. A. G. Barnes, M.L.A.; A. L. Blue, M.L.A.; A. E. MacLellan, M.L.A.

Three members follow three other former Social Credit members across the floor. W. N. Chan, M.L.A. for Toronto, and first alderman in the present government; J. W. Hagill, K.C., M.L.A. for Calgary, former attorney-general; and James Hanson, Tabor, previously crossed the floor. They now sit as independent.

All other Independent caucus, save Independent Progressives, were joined in one continual line in the House.

This means that Liberals, four strong; Conservatives, two strong; one Unity and three Independents have united in a solid opposition bloc. They will appoint a common whip, though serving for their own leaders in conference.

Edmonton bank dealings for the past week totaled $4,899,648, compared with $3,829,421.12 for the corresponding week last year, the clearing house here reported on Thursday.

Departing City Troops Bid Sweethearts Fond Farewell

With the announcement by the department of national defence that the third contingent of the First Division of the Canadian Active Service Force has arrived safely in England, The Bulletin today is able to publish pictures of Edmonton soldiers taken in the city last month as troops left for overseas. Photos, left to right, show: troops taking a last-minute look at the crowd as the train pulls out; a husband and wife grip hands in a fond farewell; a soldier hugs his sweetheart as one of the boys lifts a girl to the coach window to kiss his good-bye.

THE QUESTION

Everywhere you look these days you see so many long faces, and faces, and everywhere you turn you hear people telling tales of woe. People who have want more and more. What's the matter with people? Nobody is satisfied. What's the matter with people? Nobody is satisfied. What's the matter with people? Nobody is satisfied.

THE ANSWERS

ART RYCE, teacher: I'm afraid the reason for the dissatisfaction you mention is that education tends to increase people's needs without proportionately increasing their ability to satisfy these needs. For example, in newspapers and picture shows people see one side of life which is very desirable. Advertisements picture luxuries which everyone wishes they knew of them. Even the poorest man knows the things he would buy if he were millionaires. But unfortunately nobody seems to have paid much attention to the problem of enabling people to become wealthy enough to buy the things they want.

LOU DENNINGTON, dairy employer: If people are unhappy it is mostly their own fault. If they would pay more attention to enjoying what they have they wouldn't have so much time to worry about the things they haven't got. I'm not complaining.

JAMES McEMURRAY, policeman: Who isn't satisfied?

JESSIE McLEAN, stenographer: I think the bundle and bundle of the modern world with its high pressure salesmanship tends to tire people and focus their attention on the things they can't have so that they aren't able to enjoy the things they have.

SOCRED CAUCUS IS CONTINUED EARLY THURSDAY

Social Credit members of the legislature continued discussions Thursday morning on their platform for the coming provincial general election and their program for the session. The caucus commenced Thursday at 10 a.m. and the agenda was not cleared when the Wednesday adjournment hour came.

With the caucus agreeing that an early election was desirable, and with members favoring March 21 as the date of approving the platform on which the appeal is to be made is proceeding.

Members of the Independent Progressive Association, comprising four non-caucus Social Credit members of the house, also met Wednesday and discussed plans for the session and the election. These members are Charles Cockroft, M.L.A. for Stettler; A. L. Blue, Rimbey; S. A. G. Barnes, Edmonton; and A. E. MacLellan, Inverness.

This caucus discussed advisability of nominating candidates in various provincial constituencies.

PRICE ACTION ON MILK WILL AWAIT RULING

Intimation was given Thursday by G. M. Blacklock, K.C., chairman of the Board of Public Utilities Commission, that until the report of a commission now surveying the cost of milk production in northern Alberta had been made available to the board, he was not disposed to entertain applications for price increase or decrease.

The intimation was given as the commission prepared judgment in the application made by cream producers in the Edmonton district seeking an increase of eight cents a hundred pounds for cream. Present price is 22 cents per hundred pounds.

R. H. M. Bailey, supporting the application, said that commodities which the producer had to purchase had increased in cost because of the outbreak of war, and stressed that if continuity of supply for this need was to be maintained, the producer must have a price increase for their products.

Distributor representatives suggested that price increase in cream products would be followed by a decline in sales which would be detrimental to both distributor and producer. It was submitted that increase in price should not be considered until the cost of living had increased to meet cost of living upping.

KNOTTY POINT PLACED BEFORE JUSTICE IVES

Can the action of a person alleged to be insane be construed to be an accident to the person suffering injury through the acts of the insane person? This is the knotty legal point which Mr. Justice W. C. Ives is being asked to settle in hearing of the action brought by the estate of a deceased person, seeking payment of $12,000 under a Meridian Casualty Insurance Company accident policy, opened in 1934, by the plaintiff and Hugh J. Desjardis, K.C., and J. B. Wood for the defendant company.

Ives was asked to decide on July 12, 1936, in which George Paquet is being sued by the estate of the deceased, another man and Ivesan. All recovered, but the plaintiff's estate is claiming damages as a result of his wounds.

During 1938, American tourists in Canada spent approximately $253,000,000. The total spent in the United States last approximately $100,000,000.

WARDEN M'LEAN ENDS 25 YEARS IN PRISON WORK

Warden J. D. McLean of the provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan completed 25 years of service at that institution Saturday. Although a comparatively young man—he is 47—his record is one of the finest in the Dominion and under his direction the jail has had an enviable record for efficiency.

It was Feb. 10, 1915, when Warden McLean, with full seniority, was appointed to the position of warden at the jail. He has been ever since with prisoners at the jail. When the Royal Commission was investigating prison conditions in Canada in 1924, Warden McLean was named as warden came the following year in 1924.

REICH CLAIMS FALL FLAT AS FACTS VIEWED

Lord Marley Delivers Address Here On European Situation

Germany's attempts to justify her acts of aggression by claiming that the Versailles Treaty was unjust fall to the ground when the facts are examined in proper perspective, Lord Marley, a deputy speaker and chief opposition member in the House of Lords, told a joint luncheon meeting of the Canadian Club and Rotary Club Thursday noon at the Macdonald.

Lord Marley was speaking on "Europe Today" and reviewed the issues which now face the Allied Powers in their fight for freedom.

He said that the alleged violations of the treaty were remedied before Hitler came to power. The Treaty of Versailles, he said, represented the highest measure of justice obtainable at that time. In addition, it contained machinery to modify conditions when circumstances changed that some of its terms were operating unequally.

GIVEN FULL STATUS
When Germany was admitted to the League of Nations, she was given full status as an equal and honored partner, he declared.

Lord Marley lauded Canada's efforts to bring about the signing of the "Good relations" treaty between the first Canadian division and the British Empire.

He was elected to the provincial general assembly in 1935. In the redistribution bill which becomes effective for the next election, his constituency is a "durable peace."

Mr. Calvert announced last Saturday he will not seek re-election. His constituency also is abolished in the redistribution bill, which will result in his constituency being merged with that of Mr. Calvert.
